The Weekly News and Register.

FRIDAY, June 26, 1730. NUMB. XI.

As the Foreign Mails are very barren of material Paragraphs, our Readers, perhaps, will not be displeased with the following Detail of the splendid Doings in the Saxon Camp at Muhlberg.

ON the 5th Inst. at Six in the Morning 32 Squadrons marched from the Camp, and drew up in Order of Battel, before the Pavilion, where they were viewed by the King of Prussia, and all the Princes and Generals of his Retinue, together with our Electoral Prince and Princess, and the Ladies of the Court; the King staying within, by reason he was slightly indisposed. The said Cavalry marched by Squadrons and Troops. They made of one Line, two, four and eight Lines; then formed a Square about the Pavilion, and lastly, filed off before his Prussian Majesty. That Pavilion is made of Wood, upon a Rising Ground in the Plain, finely painted and gilt, about the Distance of a Cannon-Shot from the Front of the Middle Line. When those Squadrons were returned to the Camp, a magnificent Breakfast was served up; and sometime after, the K. of Prussia, the Princes, Princesses, and Generals returned to their respective Quarters to Dinner.

The 6th was a Day of Rest, and in the Evening there was a Concert of Musick.

On the 7th, the K. of Prussia had a Touch of the Gout in one of his Hands; and the K. of Poland being likewise a little out of Order, nothing was done that Day, nor the 8th and 9th, only the last of those Evenings they went to the Play.

On the 10th, at 6 in the Morning, the Foot marched out of the Camp in two Columns, at the Firing of the Cannon, and likewise formed a Squre on all Sides of the Pavilion, each Flank consisting of 6 Battalions. All the Infantry were exercised together, upon Beat of Drum; after which, each Flank fired by Turns and by Battalions, and last of all in different manners, as well by Plattoons, as advancing and retreating. The Square being formed again, they made what they call the Hedge-Fire, and the Grenadiers threw Hand-Grenades. Then followed general Discharges by Battalions backwards and forwards; next a Running Fire, and concluded all with 3 general Salvoes of the whole Square. Both their Majesties were, with their whole Retinues, the Electoral Prince and Princess, and the Ladies of the Court, in the Pavilion, where they had a sumptuous Breakfast; and afterwards those Troops filed off before the Kings, and returned in two Columns to the Camp, and their Majesties went to Dinner in their Quarters at the End of the Right Wing upon a Height, which affords a Prospect of the whole Camp.

The Head Quarters of the two Kings form a Squre, guarded by Janizaries and a Detachment of Cadets. Their Majesties Tent-Doors are guarded by Turks in Vests made of Cloth of Gold, with red Velvet Turbants upon their Heads. There is, besides these, a Guard of Hungarians in Scarlet Cloaths with rich Laces and Gold Fringes; with 12 other Guards called Pequins, in Scarlet Cloaths trimmed with Silver Lace, and Black Velvet Caps edged with Silver Lace, and adorned with white Plumes of Feathers, carrying Battle-Axes in their Hands, set in Massy Silver; as are likewise their Sabres. In the Middle of this Square stands a Hall with a Cupola, hanged with Crimson and Yellow Damask, in the four Corners of which are placed Ewers and English Clocks with Chimes. From this Hall they go thro' 3 Galleries to 4 Cabinets as big as ordinary Chambers, on the Sides of which are 8 Tents with Beds in them, made of rich Turky Stuffs, loaded with Gold and Silver Lace. At the End of those 4 Cabinets are 4 larger Tents, in 3 of which a Table is every Day spread for 24 Dishes each, and these 3 Tables are served all in Silver gilt Plate. The two Kings dine at one Table, their R. and El. Highnesses at another, and the Field-Marshals and chief Generals of the two Courts at the third. There are 5 more Tables of 24 Dishes each, for the principal Officers and Foreigners of Distinction, and these are likewise served in Plate; one of his Majesty's Officers sitting at each Table to entertain the Company, who are waited upon by the King's Livery Servants.

Without this Square are pitched 40 Turkish Tents for the Generals and the Retinues of the two Kings, hanged with Silk Stuffs, the same as the Field Beds, and well trimmed with Gold and Silver Lace. Those above-mention'd to be within the Square, are all Turkish Tents, as well as these, having green and red Outsides, with Floors made of Planks, covered with flatly Turky Carpets and fine Mats.

In the Front of the Square is a Garden in the nature of a Parterre; and the Visto to the Camp is planted with Pyramids of Yew-Trees, which are set into the Earth, with their Tubs.

The K. of Poland generally resides about a Pistol-shot from the Square, in a Palace of Wood which he caused to be built there; and the K. of Prussia lodges in the Square, with the Prince Royal and the Princes of his Retinue. Round these 2 Quarters encamp the Janizaries, and several of the K. of Poland's Officers; and here are contrived Wooden Kitchens, and Cellars enow to supply two such numerous Courts, and so many Great Men besides, with Diet and Liquors.

Lastly, on each of the two Wings of the Camp are erected 3 Stone Pillars, about 30 Foot high, which are partly designed as Boundaries to the Camp, and are on the other hand to be left standing, to preserve the Memory of this Camp, and of the perfect Amity between the two Monarchs.

June 16. The 12th Inst. the Artillery, consisting of 50 Pieces of Cannon, performed an Exercise of 5 Hours, which was the finest ever yet seen, some Pieces firing 120 Shot in an Hour. The 13th 6 Squadrons of the Polish Guards, equipped in the Polish Manner, the two first Ranks having Lances, made their Evolutions, and attacked afterwards 5 Battalions, which had also Lances, and who formed 5 Squares, like those of a Die, which was finely executed, and beautiful to the Eye. Yest. the whole Army made Evolutions, went out of the Camp in 8 Columns, and formed itself in Battalia in 7 Minutes, the like of which had never been seen before. The Troops made their Attacks as they advanced, having their Flanks covered, and afterwards a fine Retreat in 4 and then in 8 Columns. The King had a few Days ago a new Fever, which lasted 30 Hours, and his Majesty did not stir out the whole Week till Yest. The K. of Prussia has the Gout in his Right Hand, which is much swelled, but that did not hinder his Majesty from being on Horseback every Day 8 or 10 Hours. He now learns to write with his Left Hand.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Madrid, June 13. We learn from Biscay, that they are working in all the Ports of that Province on building several Ships of War, and have got two ready to launch. The Letters from Barcelona import, that they continue there the Preparations for War, in which great Numbers are continually employed: That the Seamen furnished by the Province of Catalonia, had imbarked on board a Ship of War sailed for Cadiz; and that another of the King's Ships was gone to Valencia, to take on board the Mariners there listed. Advices from Tetuan, of the Beginning of May, import, that Malei Abdallah, had put himself at the Head of 40,000 Men, to reduce the People of the Kingdom of Sus, who refused to acknowledge him, and that he had given the Regency of his, during his Realms Absence, to his Mother. These Advices add, that no Trade has been there carried on for six Months past, the People of the Mountains, who have not yet submitted, making continual Inroads on the Side of Santa Cruz.——Our Court set out, the 5th, from Soto de Roma, for Cazalla. We learn from Cartagena, that the Fathers de la Merced are arrived there with 347 Spanish Slaves, which they have redeemed from Algiers.

Letters from Rome, of the 8th Inst. advise, only that the Affairs of the Conclave still advance very slowly.

Paris, June 24. A very dirty Business has been lately carried on here between two Gentlemen of the English or Irish Nation, for some Time, by the Arts of the Law. We look upon it originally to have been a Quarrel; and they carry the Point of Honour so far, that they will not suffer each other to live after it; whereupon one swore Safety against his Friend, and pushed on the Prosecution vigorously, in hopes to have him burned, but the supposed Criminal happily escaped; for he was acquitted; and then in his Turn he attacked his Adversary, by charging him with hiring a Ruffain to assassinate him; for which, tho' they are thought to have been equally right, he who is Defendant now, is Prisoner in the Chatelet, and in a very fair Way to be hanged.

About a Week ago, an Abbé well known in the World was arrested in his Apartment, for unlawfully increasing his Income, by coining of false Money.

Rome, June 10. May last, we had a flying Report throughout the City, that the Sacred College had resolved to raise Cardinal Davia to the Chair, and that the Election would be made that Day; which occasioned People of all Ranks to crowd to the Vatican to hear him proclaimed: But when they understood, that he had but 29 Voices in the Scrutiny that Day, and that there was no Likelihood of his being chosen Pope, they returned home, exceedingly baulked in their Expectation of seeing a Man of Cardinal Davia's Merit advanced to the Tiara. We are now told it will lie between the Cardinals Colonna and Spinola. On the 4th was carried to the Prison of the Inquisition, a Man of a Venerable Aspect, having a long gray Beard, cloathed in a red Gown, with a Cowl almost like those the Cardinals wear. It is said, he was taken at Cracow, and brought hither at the Expence of the Inquisition; that he speaks all Languages, is versed in all the Sciences, and has foretold several Events: He is 135 Years of Age, and calls himself Enoch.

Hague, June 30. N. S. At Barcelona they are getting every Thing ready for the Troops to imbark next Month, to the Number of 42,000 Men. From Vienna they tell us, the Emperor's Answer to the last Proposals of the Allies was to be drawn up the 17th; but the Generals Count Merci and Staremberg set out the same Day for Italy. This does not look like Peace; and indeed they begin to lose all Hope of it at Paris. There is Blood drawn in the Duchy of Mecklenberg, between the Duke's Troops and those of Hanover, the latter having retaken the Post from which they were dislodged upon the Duke's Arrival at Swerin. There was one Man killed, and two wounded; but they do not say on which Side.

Leghorn, June 10. The Grand Duke has granted Passage into his Dominions to 6000 Imperialists, quartered in the Duchy of Massa. We learn from Malta, that divers Ships of War of that Island were sailed for the Levant, to intercept the Fleet of Merchants Ships, bound from Alexandria to Constantinople.

Vienna, June 17. N. S. The Emperor's Answer to the last Resolution of the Allies of Seville, is to be drawn up this Day, and will be sent away in two or three Days at furthest.

Paris, June 28. They write from Calais, that by the Negligence of the Inspectors of the Sluices, there has been so great an Inundation in the Low Countries, that they can hope for no Harvest this Year, the Land still lying many Feet under Water in several Places. From Venloose they give us a melancholy Account of the Troops of Wolves about that Country, who have made great Ravages, and devoured many Children, in spight of all the Care and Precaution of the Hunters. From Monaw they frighten us with a Tale of a flying Dragon, which is of an astonishing Length, and terrifies the whole Country.

The seven (Kings, as some stile them) Chiefs of the Chitabee Indians, lately arrived from S. Carolina, in the Fox M. W. were introduced to his Majesty, before whom they all kneeled, were present at the Installation, and stood near the King when at Dinner, being dressed in their Country Habits, having in their Hands, one a Bow, another a Musquetoon, &c.—— The Expences of the Instalment, Dinner, &c. is computed at 5000*l.* The whole was performed with the greatest Order and Regularity imaginable; nor was it attended with any ill Accident.

And the same Day and Place was tried an Action brought by a Linen-Draper against a Gentleman in Wiltshire, for Linen and Cambrick sold and delivered to the Defendant's Wife, more than two years past, to the amount of 53*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* The Plaintiff proved the Sale and Delivery of the Goods, and that the Person who bought them went from him, against his Consent, in Oct. 1718; that there had been before their Separation, great Familiarities between the Wife and a certain young Gentleman, and that he had used her with great Indulgence; his Coachman swore, that on going to see her at Marlborough, soon after her leaving his Matter, she said, "I never will return more, tho' I lie on "a Dunghill, or die in a Ditch." The Plaintiff in Reply endeavoured to prove, that the Defendant had refused to receive and provide for his Wife; but the Evidence amounting to no more than this: That a Gentleman went to him from her, after her Elopement, to tell him she was willing to return, if he would receive her; or if he was not, to desire a certain Sum, then mentioned, might be allowed for her Maintenance; to which the Defendent answered, "If "she does come, she shall live in a Garret, &c. and I shall "expect an Account, where she has been." The Plaintiff was hereupon Non-suited; and the Gentleman gives Notice, that he will not pay any Debts of her contracting.

Monday, June 22. At Boston in N. England above 100 Persons were under Inoculation in March last; and by Letters from thence, of the 6th of May, we are assured, the Small Pox continues to spread chiefly in the Natural Way, People being very much against Inoculation, several having died under it, and some miserably, their Bodies being deplorably mortified, and many who have survived are full of Humours almost incurable, from whence we infer, that Practice will be very little, if at all, used among them for the future. The Spring has hitherto been backward there, and it is believed, on the hot Weather coming on the Distemper will go thro' that Town, and that they will not be free from it before the next Winter checks it, when they hope their Trade will revive, which is now at a very low Ebb.

A Dinner, viz. a Leg, a Shoulder, and a Loin of Mutton were provided at the Mermaid at Windsor for them. The King lies on a Table in a Blanket; but the Prince and Chiefs lie on the Ground.

Among the Recruits to be shipped off next Week for P. Mahon and Gibraltar, one is to be Stokes, condemned to be shot for Desertion, but pardoned by the King, on Condition that, during Life, he shall serve in the latter of those our Mediterranean Garrisons.
